Waveland to increase water, sewerage rates to cover wastewater plant improvements

BY DENA BISNETTE

Although the city of Waveland's proposed budget for the coming fiscal year includes no tax increase, there will be some increase in water and sewerage rates.

The base rate for the average residence will increase by $3 for sewerage and $3 for water, Mayor John Longo Jr. said. Gas rates will not increase.

Longo said the rate increases are both needed to offset the cost of multi-million dollar improvements to the Waveland wastewater treatment plant and are the first such utility increases since 1981.

The plant improvements are part of the Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District's current four-part project, which will eventually link the Bay St. Louis and Waveland sewerage collection systems with the plant as primary treatment facility in addition to constructing the county's first publicly owned sewage collection system outside the two cities.

The improvements are needed to meet more stringent U.S. Environmental Protection Agency standards that will become mandatory next year, said the mayor, who also serves as chairman of the three-member regional wastewater district board.

"It's practically like building a whole new plant. It's not as expensive for us as for others, because we already had a plant," Longo said.

"We have the improvements, and the cost of operation and maintenance have gone up extremely over the past few years. Sludge treatment and removal has tripled; it's right at $1,000 a week now."

"Progress for Waveland, though, and progress for Hancock County is going to be based on development of sanitary sewerage and compliance with anti-pollution laws."

"We're getting 85 percent grant money but without participating in the district we would have had to put up 100 percent."

Other improvements planned for Waveland during the coming year include purchase of a new fire truck, approved for 20 years of state certification, to replace a vehicle that will lose its certification through age at the end of this month.

The mayor said he is also planning to purchase at least two new cars for the police department and to add personnel to both departments.

The improvements in the fire department and planned purchase of other equipment are aimed at reducing the city's fire insurance rating to a class six, which would reduce the amount residents will have to pay on their premiums.

A new city barn behind fire station no. 2 on Gulfside Drive is also included in the budget proposal.

In addition, the mayor said the city is looking into the possibility of widening Waveland Avenue and paving Margie Street, which would take some of the traffic off Waveland Avenue.

Longo said he was pleased with this year's budget.

"We came out $94,000 in the black and we're expecting $40,000 in credit from the wastewater district," he said.

Improvements made during the current year have included purchase of a computer system for city hall; street paving and gas, water and sewerage extensions in several areas; and purchase of a new car for use by the Waveland fire chief.

Bay officials expect no millage increase, no utility rate hikes

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

After two budget workshops and a public hearing Bay St. Louis officials believe minor budget changes being made will not result in any tax increase for the city of Bay St. Louis. The city council is scheduled to meet Tuesday to set millage for the 1988 fiscal year.

"We have worked hard to hold the line across the board in city expenditures and will be able to keep the same millage as last year," Mayor Victor J. Frankiewicz Jr. said Friday.

Discussion is continuing with Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District officials to hold down school district millage rates and this issue should be resolved by Monday, he added.

"Tax and utility rates are going up in most neighboring cities but I am happy to say there will be no further increases in Bay St. Louis for this coming year," Frankiewicz said.

"And we are continuing to work to bring current rates down," he added.

In this effort the city recently requested a $54,000 refund from the Waveland Regional Wastewater District.

This request is based on the 1986 audit which revealed the district has been overcharging for services since 1983.

The overcharges resulted from the district collecting more money than necessary to operate the district from the member cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland, Frankiewicz said.

The cities' contracts with the district require adjustments each year for any difference between revenues and expenditures.

"Over the last four years the district has collected too much and the extra money has built up to the point that it needs to be refunded," he said.

These adjustments have not been made since Bay St. Louis joined the district in 1983 and have built up over the years, according to Frankiewicz.

"As soon as the city receives the refund from the district, city officials will decide how the $54,000 will be passed on to the city's utility customers," Frankiewicz stated.

Alternatives currently being considered include customer rebates, customer credits on the monthly bills or a long term adjustment to the utility rates, he said.

"To avoid this problem in the future we are looking very carefully at the district's operating district for next year to be sure that the charges to the city of Bay St. Louis are kept as low as possible."

Fire damages Waveland house where 1984 murders occurred

BY DENA BISNETTE

A Waveland house where two people were murdered in 1984 has been damaged by a fire which is still being investigated.

Fire Chief David Garcia said the Waveland Fire Department and Hancock County-Waveland Fire Marshall Jay Marsh, with assistance from the State Fire Marshall's Office, have not yet determined the cause of the Sept. 2 fire at 1320 Dubuc Lane.

The home is now the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Frilot III, who were not home when the fire occurred, Garcia said.

The chief said the fire department received a call from a New Orleans, La., fire alarm company reporting an alarm sounding at the house shortly before 8 p.m.

Firefighters found a back bedroom, located on the northwest corner of the house, in flames when they arrived at 7:51 p.m.

The first three firefighters, Gary Maurice, Jeff Garber and Tommy Holzhauser, had to break in through a back door to fight the blaze, Garcia said.

A second truck with four additional firefighters arrived within seven minutes after the first one. The fire was contained within 10 minutes and extinguished.

According to Garcia, the bedroom was the only part of the house actually damaged by the fire, although he added that the remainder of the house suffered "very heavy heat and smoke damage."

On Jan. 27, 1984, Gerald A. Comiskey, 54, of Waveland and Keith L. McMillan of New Orleans were shot in the house, which at the time was Comiskey's residence.

McMillan was dead at the scene but Comiskey died later during surgery at Hancock General Hospital.

Convicted in the double murder was Allen Nicolaou, then 18, of Canton, Ohio.

A fourth person in the house the night of the shootings, which apparently occurred during an argument, was Robert Corkern, then 21 and living in BaySide Park. Corkern served as one of the witnesses at Nicolaou's trial.

BaySide roads to be closed

BY DENA BISNETTE

Beginning this week, three streets in BaySide Park will be blocked for installation of crossover culverts.

Hancock County Maintenance Superintendent Bill Johnson said the schedule is still tentative and is based on availability of the culverts as well as suitable working weather. The streets involved are Leake, Harrison and Hancock drives, in that order.

Johnson said clearing of trees and bushes is being completed and the main ditch in the southwest end of the subdivision will be cut down to the proper grade for drainage, with the culverts to be installed as crossings are made.

In addition, the east end of Hancock Drive near US-90 has already been cut for a culvert replacement and asphalt patching is expected to begin during the latter part of the week.

BaySide man finds home broken into, burned

A BaySide Park resident who returned to his mobile home to find it broken into on Thursday has lost his trailer to fire.

According to a report from the Hancock County Sheriff's Department, Raymond Sharp, of Rt. 7, Box 437, Bay St. Louis, returned to his home on West DeSoto Street after an absence of several weeks at about 3 p.m. Thursday and found that the lock on one of the doors had been forced open.

A stereo and a water pump were missing.

The fire occurred at about 10 p.m. the same day, Hancock County-Waveland Fire Marshall Jay Marsh said.

Marsh said Sharp, a truck driver, had left for New Orleans after reporting the break-in, then returned to find firefighters from the BaySide Park and Clermont Harbor volunteer fire departments still working on the scene.

The trailer was heavily damaged inside from flames that apparently started in or near a closet in a center bedroom, the fire marshal said.

Marsh is investigating the fire and the sheriff's department is investigating the break-in.

FOUR INJURED—Four persons received injuries Saturday afternoon in a four-car accident on Highway 603 near Tigress Road. Mr. and Mrs. Carty Ladner, of Route 2, Box 301, Pass Christian were taken to Memorial Hospital in Gulfport where they are listed in stable condition. According to Sheriff's Deputy Edward Thornton, Ladner, who was headed north in a Ford station wagon, swerved into the left-hand lane after he was unable to stop for a car with a boat and trailer waiting to turn on Tigress. Ladner's vehicle collided with a pickup driven by Frank Smith of Poplarville. Mr. and Mrs. Smith were transported to Hancock Medical Center where they were treated and released. Following the Ladner-Smith collision, Harriet Corner was unable to stop and slightly damaged her small-size pickup as she hit the side of Ladner's station wagon, Thornton said. Corner was apparently not injured. Martin Murphree, 15, 102 Mollere Dr., Waveland who was driving the car pulling the boat and trailer was cited for no lights, no turn signal and no tag. Thornton added. (Staff photo by Brenda Heathcock)

Navy Show Band concert planned on Bay City Hall grounds

A free show band concert sponsored by the Downtown Merchants Association and the City of Bay St. Louis is planned for Wednesday evening Oct. 7 on the City Hall grounds.

The public is invited to this free concert by the U.S. Navy Show Band South, which is planned hopefully as the forerunner of additional free public concerts.

Downtown Merchants Association spokesman Tyson McMahon said the project is at the top of the association's agenda.

The U.S. Navy Show Band South has received much acclaim throughout the South and is a nationally recognized band billed as one of the United States finest and most diverse musical groups.

They were among the featured performers at this year's Bay St. Louis Beachfront Festival in June.

Playing music from the 40's through the 80's and featuring a Las Vegas type show, the ensemble performs concerts in the big band jazz idiom as well as dances and social events for active duty military personnel.

Comprised of a rhythm section, sax section, brass line and lead vocalists, this unit excites audiences with its versatility and musicianship.

Ed Jurkowski of the Bay Merchants Association encourages everyone to come to the City Hall grounds on the evening of Oct. 7.

"Bring your lawn chairs or ground cover and just relax for a concert of great music. It is hoped that this will be the first of a series of regular concerts restoring vitality and life to the central area of the city," he said.

Admission is free and there will be a soft drink concession stand in the area. This concert at City Hall has the support of the mayor and city council and much credit is given them for erection of a stage area, lighting and additional support, Jurkowski added.

Jurkowski stressed that the Show Band concert will be reminiscent of the old concert in the park days and that everyone should come to relax on the grounds, picnic if they wish, listen to great danceable music and enjoy this free unique concert.

Hawks defeat PRC

by BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Hancock North Central won their second game Friday with a 21-6 score over the Pearl River Central Blue Devils.

"We are very happy to be 2-0 because practice was not good this week," according to Head Coach Irvin Favre.

"We played real fine ball in the first half, with Quarterback Jeff Moran playing in spite of an injury received last week," he said.

It was a very "gutsy performance" by Moran, Favre added.

The Hawk coach also praised Quarterback Ronald Doyle who came in when Moran bruised a muscle in the third quarter.

"It was a key situation in the game when Doyle came in at quarterback because we still had to generate some offense," Favre said.

Doyle came into a pressure situation with less than two quarters of experience as a quarterback in a high school game and did real well, he said.

"I don't think the score would have been the same if Doyle had not done such a great job," Favre added.

Defensively, the players hit hard all night and rose to the occasion whenever needed, he said.

"Giving up only six points in two ball games shows we are hanging in there and playing some good defense," he said.

Favre also said specialty teams played good ball all night.

The Hawks will be off this week and their next game will be Sept. 25 against Pass Christian.

"We will be working this week to correct mistakes," he said.

Favre also said the Hawks had a super following of fans at the game and the team is very appreciative of the support.

In Friday's game the Hawk gained an offensive total of 313 yards to a 223 PRC total.

Donald Vince was the leading rusher with 12 carries for 143 yards. Terrence Goff followed with 80 yards, Vincent Cuevas rushed for 54 yards and Doyle carried three times for 33 yards.

The scoring began with a 50-yard drive and Goff carried it in from five yards out on a run around left end.

Larry Beech's extra point kick was good.

Next from the five-yard line Donald Vince cut off tackle and ran 95 yards to score. The extra point was good.

In the second quarter, PRC mounted a drive and Quarterback Adam Jones connected with Tight End Joey McClinton for a 39-yard TD pass. The kick was no good.

HNC's Vincent Cuevas scored again from around the right end from 10-yards out and a two-point conversion pass from Moran to Cuevas upped the score to 21-6.

In the third quarter the teams had a see-saw battle up and down the field.

The Blue Devils got down to the 10-yard line but a fourth down stand by the Hawks stopped them from scoring.

The final stop was by Dewayne Acker with a "great defensive effort" on a reverse play, Favre said.

Waveland Players set auditions for "1776"

Waveland Players will conduct tryouts for a musical production, "1776," at 7 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 13, and Monday, Sept. 14.

The cast includes 25 men and two women of various ages ranging from 18 to senior citizens.

Tryouts are being conducted at the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre's playhouse on Boardman Avenue with the support and cooperation of Bay St. Louis Little Theatre, said Ted Stechmann, a Waveland Players spokesman.

Stechmann said as many singers as possible are needed for "1776," although trained voices are not necessary.

Dottie Overall is director for the production, with Ingrid Ling serving as musical director. Ollie McKenna is assistant musical director.

According to Stechmann, "1776" was selected by the Waveland Players in honor of the bicentennial of the U.S. Constitution. The Tony KEESLER AIR FORCE BASE—Tops In Blue will present a Bicentennial of the Constitution stage show, "We the People," Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the Mississippi Coast Coliseum.

Tops In Blue is an Air Force all-military touring show.

Each year, in a worldwide competition lasting several months, the United States Air Force picks its finest talent. More than 6,000 talent contestants compete for finalist positions in the Worldwide Talent Contest.

Once at Worldwide, 250 contestants are subjected to extensive competition, interviews, and auditions lasting more than a week.

At the end of this exhaustive process, the Tops In Blue candidates are chosen. These candidates, however, are a long way from being Tops In Blue members.

That is accomplished in a month-long, 18-hour-a-day rehearsal schedule at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

By the end of that grueling month, Tops In Blue is born.

Tops In Blue has performed to audiences all over the world in addition to special performances at Disneyland and Disney World and at the Super Bowl XIX halftime show. The Tops in Blue show has something for everybody, it's fun and it's free, a Keesler spokesman stated.

At 12:30 p.m. our time on Wednesday, some 57 million students across the nation will join President Ronald Reagan, the United States Congress, Chief Justice Warren Burger, retired. In a simultaneous recitation of the Pledge of Allegiance.

This is just part of the Bicentennial Commemoration of the United States Constitution.

The September issue of The American Legion Magazine, a Special Edition, commemorates the U.S. Constitution and its authors by examining in print and picture the historical events that contributed to this nation's birth.

The Legion magazine has more information about America's Constitution than any magazine I have ever viewed.

The Legion magazine is a must for anyone to read who is interested in our Constitution.

Since there are more than 1,000 Legionnaires in Hancock County, one should be able to find someone with a copy of the magazine.

We have also been told how the September issue of the Veterans of Foreign Wars magazine also has some features on America's Constitution.

The Constitution of the United States is one of the most important documents ever written for governing a nation.

It is hoped everyone will pause on Wednesday and recite The Pledge of Allegiance, even if it is to themselves.

We should all be proud of our American heritage.

A Community Service being offered by Hancock Medical Center this week will be free cholesterol testing.

The testing will be done from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

For further information contact the administration office at 467-9081, extension 2200.

The State Highway Department is seeking public comment on the results of an environmental impact study on possible effects of four-laning Highway 603.

The four-laning of Highway 603 is one of the main projects of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce as well as many residents who have to drive the roadway.

Copies of the study's findings are being made available to the public at Waveland City Hall and the Hancock County Board of Supervisors office and chancery clerk's office at the Hancock County Courthouse.

Since the four-laning of Highway 603 would require several acres of wetlands to be filled, it was necessary to have the environmental impact study made.

The four-laning of Highway 603 will probably be from US-90 to I-10 during this project, and we are hoping it will be done all the way to Highway 55 one day.

We are glad to see efforts are now beginning to take shape on Highway 603 and will be happy to drive the roadway when it is four-laned.

Support for keeping Dr. Bradford at HMC ER continues

Editor
Sea Coast Echo

I want you to know that I, for one, appreciate having a good doctor like Dr. William Bradford in our Medical Center Emergency Room.

I have heard the people of Waveland give him the highest praise. We want him to stay there.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Mildred Stoltz
Waveland

Dear Sir,

It's my opinion the people of the Gulf Coast are very fortunate to have caring and knowledgeable doctors.

I feel that Dr. William Bradford of Hancock Medical Center is one of them.

He cares very much about the care and well being of the people in Hancock County.

There's a phrase—"You don't miss water until the well runs dry." I, for one, hope we have Dr. Bradford at the hospital for a long time.

Sincerely,
Alyne Saba

New signs near Waveland Elementary urge caution on part of motorists

To the Editor
Sea Coast Echo

Dear Sir,

I write this letter to call your attention to the city of Waveland's very prompt action on a citizen's request.

I called Waveland City Hall on Friday, Sept. 4 and told them about a problem that needed to be corrected—the rusty old school sign that was on St. Joseph Street.

I called them at 8:45 a.m. and by 9:30 a.m. they had already replaced it with a new sign and also added a new sign on Old Spanish Trail.

As of Tuesday, Sept. 8 they added two crossing signs where many of the children cross at St. Joseph Street to go to and from Waveland Elementary School.

I want to commend those who are looking out for the safety of our children in Waveland Elementary.

I now hope that the public will obey the new speed zones on St. Joseph Street and Old Spanish Trail.

Many Thanks,
Mrs. Susan M. Adams

VISTA Tutorial Program offers unique opportunity to students

To the Editor
The Sea Coast Echo

Dear Editor,

I wonder how many parents are aware of the VISTA Tutorial Program in Bay St. Louis.

A program of this magnitude can help children on a one-on-one basis to acquire basic skills.

As a concerned citizen of Hancock County I would like to see this program become self-sustaining as it is designed to be.

We as a community must maintain this kind of program as a year around on-going one.

As I understand it, we need volunteers from our community as well as additional students to take advantage of this opportunity.

Sincerely,
Geraldine Lang

Focus is on County Government
People throughout the nation are reading about Mississippi again.

The story that is being told is one of corrupt county government, of a system that doesn't work, and of a system that has allowed corruption to build over a long period of years.

The national news media is reporting that more than 40 Mississippi county supervisors have been indicted for corrupt purchasing practices. The stories are saying that Mississippians traditionally have looked the other way of corruption in county government.

This kind of publicity we can do without.

There can be a positive outcome to the focus now on county government in Mississippi if that attention will reveal the pitfalls of operating government under an outdated system that fosters poor management.

Operating county government in this state under a county unit system will not cure all the problems, but it's the best step the state can take.

Certainly, there is less opportunity for corruption and for poor management under the county unit system. It's a more efficient system and eliminates the temptation that the beat system allows.

Both of the candidates for governor support mandatory county unit. Republican Jack Reed told the Mississippi Association of Supervisors recently that some mandatory levels of county unit inevitably will be adopted by the State Legislature in 1988. Democratic candidate Ray Mabus has been a strong supporter of mandatory county unit.

When the 1988 session begins, county unit should have the support of business, the public, and the governor. That should make this decision an easy one for the state's lawmakers.

Many good things are happening in Mississippi. It's time to heal the black eyes so the national media can see what positive things are happening in this state.

Constitution Bicentennial celebrations to begin on anniversary eve

WASHINGTON, D.C.—At a press briefing recently a videotaped message from President Reagan and announcements by retired Chief Justice Warren E. Burger, chairman of the Commission on the Bicentennial of the United States Constitution, revealed plans for "A Celebration of Citizenship," a ceremony that will take place at the United States Capitol on Wednesday, the eve of the 200th anniversary of the signing of the document.

According to Chief Justice Burger, the ceremony will feature President Ronald Reagan leading the nation in a nationally-televised Pledge of Allegiance.

Other participants will include Senate Majority Leader Robert Byrd, speaker of the House Jim Wright, other Congressional leaders, Members of the Cabinet, and outstanding young Americans from across the nation.

Chief Justice Burger said that the ceremony events will be patriotic, educational and entertaining in nature.

Beginning at 10:30 a.m., a pre-program on the West Front lawn of the Capitol will feature entertainment by Washington area school bands and national celebrities. At noon ABC will begin special program coverage of "A Celebration of Citizenship" school activities honoring the Constitution from around the nation. At 12:30 p.m. the official ceremony will be broadcast live from the West Front steps of the Capitol.

In his videotaped message, President Reagan said, "During 'A Celebration of Citizenship,' as we envision 200 more years of the Blessings of Liberty, we will have the opportunity to reaffirm our commitment to the rights and responsibilities of citizenship. And, as we celebrate the Bicentennial of the United States Constitution, it is our patriotic duty as American citizens to communicate our message of freedom and democracy to the world."

Chief Justice Burger said, "With great respect and honor we welcome President Reagan, Senator Byrd, and Speaker Wright as they join America's youth in this tribute to the United States Constitution. As we look forward to the Bicentennial celebration continuing through 1991, we are confident our nation's students and educators will carry with them a greater understanding of our governing document."

"A Celebration of Citizenship" is sponsored by the Commission on the Bicentennial of the United States Constitution and is one of the Commission's official commemorative projects serving as a "national civics lesson" in tribute to the Constitution.

The Commission's primary mandate is to educate citizens on the history and the intent of the Constitution through educational forums and activities. In addition to the active endorsement of the Congress and the Administration, the event is being supported through educational programs and celebratory activities by America's academic, corporate and entertainment communities.

Funded by Nabisco Brands Inc. and Xerox Corporation, "A Celebration of Citizenship" is co-sponsored by the American Newspaper Publishers Association Foundation and 12 major national education organizations with the support of the National Association of Broadcasters.

In addition to the national ceremony, the program will feature a nationwide day-long teach-in involving America's 66 million students and educators. On Aug. 20, a print and broadcast public service announcement (PSA) campaign was conducted nationwide featuring government and news leaders and entertainment celebrities.

On Aug. 20, a print and broadcast public service announcement campaign was conducted nationwide featuring government and news leaders and entertainment celebrities.

The press conference was moderated by Lynne V. Cheney, member of the commission and chairman of the National Endowment for the Humanities.

The conference also featured comments on their organizations' active participation from James O. Welch Jr., chairman of Nabisco Brands Inc.; David T. Kearns, chairman and chief executive officer of the Xerox Corporation; Sandra C. Hardy, vice chairman of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association Foundation; Ann Kahn, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers (PTA); and Edward O. A United Way Agency

Hancock Doll and Toy Fund a year-round activity

Editor's Note: Following is the eighth in a series of articles being presented by the Sea Coast Echo on agencies which are partially funded by the United Way of Hancock County. The local United Way is planning a Sept. 25 kickoff for its 1987 fundraising drive. Lonnie Clayborn of Waveland is chairman of this year's drive. The goal is $65,000.

By Gail Roy
Bay St. Louis
Fire Department

From its humble beginning in 1973 the Hancock County Doll and Toy Fund has mushroomed into the organized effort that provides toys for more than 1,000 children.

The first year of its existence just 16 children received toys.

Former Chief Richard Fayard recalled that two of the children were from Shoreline, a few from Waveland, and the rest from the Bay. At that time there were no cash donations and used toys were the only source of gifts.

Under the administration of former Chiefs Robert Gavagnie and Greg Richardson the fund grew slightly, with rare financial donations supplementing the supply of used toys.

When Chief Lizana took over he organized the effort bringing it to the point it is today. As the parent of a large family he can empathize with parents who are unable to provide for their children at Christmas.

He set out to make the collection of used toys go on throughout the year. It is not unusual to see boxes of toys and bicycles in his office. This affords firefighters the opportunity to repair articles when they have some spare time.

Financial support from the United Way and other donors have made possible the purchase of new toys and gifts for the children. County retailers have benefited, too, because of the Chief's policy that as much as possible toys and other items will be bought locally.

Recently city and state officials have become involved by initiating an annual car wash with the proceeds to be used for the Doll and Toy Fund. About a month before Christmas it is set up at a local area and if one wishes to have his or her vehicle washed by the Mayor of Bay St. Louis or a state Senator this is their opportunity.

Meanwhile, about two weeks after Thanksgiving the Welfare Department starts to accept names. The Fire Department used to take the names themselves, and still do on occasion, but found that the phones would be tied up too long with the many callers.

The dispatcher then makes out index cards for each family to ensure that no one is forgotten or overlooked.

Toys are bundled in bags and boxes with the family name clipped to it. At least one new toy and several good used toys are provided for each child. As a rule the gifts are not wrapped in order to give parents the chance to decorate them as they wish.

This phase of the operation takes many days and everyone at the fire department as well as their families are pressed into service. Sometimes parents make special requests such as "a soft toy that can be hugged" or "anything sports related." The Chief understands these special needs and complies as much as possible.

As bags are completed families are called and may come to the station to pick them up. Those who live too far away or who are unable to come have theirs delivered by firefighters or volunteers. As Christmas draws nearer the activity becomes more and more accelerated until at last all packages have been picked up or delivered and the end of the names has been reached.

It is not only at Christmas time the Doll and Toy Fund operates, as there are occasions where a fire will completely destroy a residence and small children will be left without a toy. The Doll and Toy fund provides toys for the children at a time when a family is really in need of assistance.

After the first of the year the activity picks up again with the sending of "Thank You" notes and the compiling of a financial report to be given to all interested parties.

Most feel, after reading the report, that it is remarkable that so many children were able to receive a gift considering the amount of money that was available.

Chief Lizana gratefully acknowledges the unswerving support of his donors, including the United Way, and looks forward to many years of happy association.

He and all the personnel at the Bay St. Louis Fire Department all get a special feeling of gratification knowing that through their effort, and that of all the other people connected with the Hancock County Doll and Toy Fund, many children have a happier Christmas.

SPEED DIALING—Mrs. Bernice "Mrs. B" Bieller, left, places her first call using Speed Calling as Pass Christian Mayor Jake Irwin and South Central Bell District Manager Pat Santucci look on. Speed Calling is one of the four custom calling services available in Pass

Christian since the Aug. 29 conversion of that office to digital equipment. It eliminates misdialing and reduces the digits for dialing preselected numbers to one or two instead of seven, or eight or ten for long distance numbers.

Manager outlines new services available

While most Pass Christian residents slept during the early morning hours of Aug. 29, South Central Bell technicians quickly cut the wires connecting Pass Christian's 8,161 telephones to the old electro-mechanical equipment in the office at 243 East Second Street.

Immediately, new state-of-the-art digital central office switching equipment, installed during the past several months, began completing the calls for Pass Christian customers.

This new equipment gives Pass Christian customers access to telephone services and features second to none in the world, according to Pat Santucci, South Central Bell district manager.

"Many Pass Christian residents have quickly taken advantage of the new technology," Santucci said. She explained, "It is a new era for telecommunications. Modern customers want their telephone to work for them."

"The Custom Calling Services are designed to do that. Speed Calling, a customer favorite, provides complete accuracy in dialing and saves time but is also ideal for the blind, handicapped, small child or elderly because it requires pressing only one or two buttons to be connected to friends, relatives or emergency help."

"Call Waiting enables a customer to hold one call and answer another. Three-way calling allows a customer to set up a conference of three people at a time and is really popular with teenagers. Call Forwarding lets a customer have their calls go where they go, to other numbers in Pass Christian or virtually anywhere," she continued.

Residential customers may save $15.50 and business customers $24.50 on connection charges for the new electronic services through Nov. 6.

Santucci said, "We had a number of customers on a waiting list for these services. We feel this is a great opportunity for other customers to become familiar with these services which make new choices available to Pass Christian customers and adds another dimension of convenience and safety."

Those interested in additional information should call 1-557-6500 (residential) or 1-557-6000 (business).

Mike Anthony—representing Jourdan River Estates, the Garden Island, Jourdan River Isles and Shoreline Park Civic Associations, and Dr. Edwin Dorn, an oyster biologist of the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory in Ocean Springs, Mississippi, who had been a consultant for the system adopted in Ocean Springs, Anthony said.

WASTEWATER ALTERNATIVES—Reading a prepared statement at a Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District Board of Directors meeting Wednesday night at the Waveland Civic Center.

regarding the permit board hearing. Michael Anthony, representing the Jourdan River residents, suggested the irrigation method as an acceptable long-range alternative for wastewater treatment for the two cities.

He noted the City of Ocean Springs is planning to utilize the irrigation method to dispose its sewage plant effluent in the Mississippi Sand Hill Crane National Wildlife Refuge 10 miles away and construct the system with 85 percent matching federal funds.

The cities of Houston, Chicago and Tallahassee are utilizing the irrigation method, Anthony added.

Michael Anthony, spokesman for a group of property owners on the Jourdan River, told the district that his group had met to study the 201 plan, dealing with the wastewater disposal system, and the 208 plan, which addresses management of the county-wide district.

"We still strenuously object to the proposed point of discharge and will continue to object to any discharge directly into a popular recreational water," Anthony said.

His group conferred with Dr. Edwin W. Cake Jr., biological oceanographer of Gulf Coast Research Laboratory, who had been a consultant for the system adopted in Ocean Springs, Anthony said.

"Dr. Cake suggests that discharge into the Jourdan River is inadequate or improper. Treated waste could seriously damage the recreational attributes of the Jourdan River, the Bay of St. Louis, the adjacent waterways, the shell fish beds and the port," he said.

Although the Jourdan River group felt that a spray irrigation system, in which treated wastewater is used to fertilize forests, "makes the most sense of all," Anthony noted that his group lacked the resources to evaluate the technical and cost factors of changing the district plans to utilize this method. Instead, he asked that the district and its engineers include a spray irrigation system with other alternatives for public presentation.

Michael Anthony, of the nearby Jourdan River Estates area, agreed with Longo and reported the newly-formed Shoreline Park Civic Association is trying to solve pollution problems in that area.

He said the association is trying to get the state to stop the dumping of raw sewage into ditches and canals in that area.

"If they don't do the job, we'll take it to court and sue the state for not doing their job," Anthony stated.

QUALIFIED BY:

- ☐ College Degree
- ☐ Veteran U.S. Army
- ☐ 10 yrs. Coast, Supervisor
- ☐ Civic Minded
- ☐ Dedicated and Sincere

By using my qualifications I can immediately begin working for the people of Beat One and the entire county.

EDUCATION: I will begin a never ending battle not only to maintain our quality professional educational system, but also to keep it up with the times ahead. Our children are our future.

DRAINAGE: I will direct immediate attention to Beat One's many drainage problems, and by using our newly implemented Unit System, we do not have to rely on one supervisor's knowledge and equipment but the resources and expertise of the entire county can be pooled together as a unit to help correct this on going problem.

ROADS: By correcting the drainage problems we have taken the first step toward better roads. A paved street is cheaper to maintain, and they will actually pay for themselves in the long run. I will try to pave as many streets as possible and as soon as possible.

UNEMPLOYMENT: I will work closely with NASA officials and our own Port and Harbor Commission to open more jobs to our local people, not only the unemployed but also for our many commuters to Louisiana and individuals that had to leave their homes entirely and travel, (Alabama, Georgia, Florida).

BEACHES: I will continue to work with our Bay St. Louis and Waveland officials, carry out the detailed plans for our new sand beaches.

POLICE: I will fight for an increase in the sheriff's budget for pay increases, new and modern equipment and for expansion, such as more deputies and patrol cars to keep up with our ever growing community.

By voting for me on Nov. 3, 1987, I can make these ideas become a reality. Please weigh my qualifications with that of my opponent and come out and vote in the Nov. 3 General Election.

Many of you may remember me from 1983 and 1984 when I fought very hard for you to get 85% Federal Funding for land irrigation to handle waste water for all of Hancock County. I went through the state and on to Washington, D. C., where I was finally told that Hancock County was not progressive enough to give the Federal money its bang for the buck.

I never want that to be said about Hancock County or us again. Fortunately, the four communities I represented did get the 85% Federal funding under land innovation and we stopped the planned waste discharge into the Jourdan River.

I HAVE WORKED HARD FOR YOU IN THE PAST, AND WOULD LIKE TO CONTINUE TO DO SO IN THE FUTURE AS YOUR SUPERVISOR IN DISTRICT 5.

PBS to present four-part series

A uniquely American story of a hundred years of progress that revolutionized health care the world over is told in The Health Century, a series of four hour-long documentaries premiering Sept. 21 at 10 p.m. over the Public Broadcasting Service (PBS).

This television epic illustrates how the partnership of government, academia, voluntary and professional organizations, and the pharmaceutical industry together spurred more medical progress in less than a century than had taken place since the time of Hippocrates.

In the process, they made America the world leader in medical research.

More than 50 heroes and heroines of the world of medical science are interviewed and filmed at the front lines of their work in research laboratories, examining rooms or at the operating table.

The series marks the centennial of the National Institutes of Health, the nation's focal point for medical research, which began humbly in 1887 as a one-room laboratory at the Marine Hospital in Staten Island, New York.

Produced by The Blackwell Corporation, a leading independent supplier of programming for PBS, the new series is underwritten by the "Partners in Discovery," a group of 15 private research-based pharmaceutical companies and organizations.

Program One traces the story of microbe hunters of infectious diseases—from cholera to polio to AIDS.

The scientific offensive against three chronic killers—heart disease, diabetes and brain disorders—is documented in Program Two. The role of cell biology and immunology in the treatment of diseases common to the aging are themes of the third program, which focuses on cancer, Alzheimer's Disease, and organ transplants and replacements.

The final hour of The Health Century reviews the history of molecular biology and genetics through the discovery of DNA and the biotechnology revolution of the 80's.

In Program One, early and recent work to stem the tide of infection is addressed through profiles of more than a dozen key scientists, with many of their patients.

Dr. Stanley Falkow heads a molecular biology lab at Stanford University, Palo Alto, California.

An expert on viruses, he says, "Organisms are masters at interacting with humans and deceiving them. They disguise themselves. Act like a Trojan Horse. But they're only trying to make a living. The goal of one is to become two."

Maurice Hilleman of Merck, Sharpe and Dohme was one of the first to show that cancer can be caused by a virus and was instrumental in the successful development of commercial production of vaccines—crucial to the success of conquering infectious disease.

Dr. Louis Weinstein of the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital in Boston, Mass. recalls a lifetime of treating infectious disease, as he makes his rounds.

His experience spans the great epidemics of the Twentieth Century, from influenza to polio to AIDS.

Two of his polio patients, Marsha Rosenwald and 1956 Olympic Gold Medalist Tenley Albright, recount their experience with the disease for The Health Century.

Nobel laureates for polio research Thomas Weller of Harvard University and Frederick Robbins of Case Western Reserve recall the serendipitous moment they figured out, with Dr. John Enders, how to grow viruses in a test tube, virtually eliminating the use of laboratory animals in vaccine research and production.

Dr. Jonas Salk, who developed the first effective polio vaccine, paints a picture of the era in which it was done—a time when many polio victims, in an eerie parallel to more recent cases involving AIDS patients, were denied treatment at many hospitals for fear that the disease would be spread there.

Also featured in the story of the fight against polio are the accomplishments of Dr. Albert Sabin, who developed the oral polio vaccine.

Profiles of three generations of researchers advance the story of the National Institutes of Health from the war on polio to the war on AIDS.

DeWitt Stetten, whose medical career began as a clinician in the early 1930's, saw and participated in the growth of the National Institutes of Health into a multibillion dollar research and funding center.

Dr. Ruth Kirschstein, director of NIH's Institute of General Medical Sciences, was on the panel of the National Institutes of Health that selected the Salk vaccine for administration to the public.

Clinician, researcher and administrator Dr. Anthony Fauci, Director of the Institute For Allergies and Infectious Diseases, coordinates the research end of the federal government's war on AIDS.

Dr. Fauci and his colleagues in the AIDS battle face many of the same challenges that confronted researchers from Louis Pasteur to Jonas Salk—many of their discoveries build directly on the work of those pioneers.

Dr. Robert Gallo, of the National Institutes of Health, co-discoverer of the AIDS virus, leads his own laboratory team devoted to the study of AIDS and interacts with scientists, both here and abroad.

Dr. Jay Levy, of the University of California at San Francisco and a pioneer in AIDS research, was one of the first to isolate the AIDS virus and is now searching for a means to inhibit its growth.

A companion book to the television series, The Health Century, written by Edward Shorter, Ph.D. is published by Doubleday & Company. It is a selection of the Book-of-the-Month Club.

Rocks edge St. John 22-21

If you did not see the St. Stanislaus-St. John football game Friday at Rockachaw stadium, you missed one people will be talking about for a long time.

It's not enough to say that both squads fought as hard as they possibly could for 48 minutes, or that every athlete on the field put forth his maximum effort.

There was an electricity about this game that was evident on the field, as well as among the fans supporting both schools.

It came down to simple arithmetic. With SSC trailing St. John 21-12 with 9:27 left to go in the contest, the Rocks had to score twice and had to cross St. John's goal-line.

Gino Ascani took the Eagles kickoff in the fourth quarter and raced into St. John territory to the 40 yd. line, but a holding penalty brought the ball back to the SSC 45 yard line.

Cedric Smith came in to QB and connected with flanker Shannon Garrett for a 20 yard gain down to the Eagles 25 yard line.

Workhorse Gino Ascani swept left end for 16 more yards, giving the Rocks a first and goal at the St. John 9 yard line.

Two plays later Ascani scored over right tackle, thanks to beautiful blocks by Chuck Lavinghouse and Shane Sigsworth.

Mike Vegas booted the extra point and the Rocks closed the gap to within two points, 21-19, with a little over six minutes left to play in the game.

Momentum had shifted to the Rocks as Vegas kicked off deep to Jay Oberlies. As the Rocks converged on the St. John returner, Shannon Garrett hit Oberlies so hard that the ball popped loose and the Rocks recovered on the St. John 35 yard line.

The offensive line of the Rockachaws was at their best, opening wide holes for Ascani and Shabazz.

On a key third down play, Shabazz swept the right side close to the first down, but the ball was wrenched away by the St. John defensive end.

The Eagles had recovered on their own 13 yard line, and Coach Mike Gavin breathed a sigh of relief. His St. John squad needed only to grind out a first down or two and the game would be over.

Coach Larry Ramsey called on his defense to rise to the occasion. Playing with determined confidence, Vincent Bradley, Craig Sweeney, Jimmy Bradley and Jerry Fackrell dug in and forced St. John to punt with 2:14 left in the game.

The Eagles' Oliver Wiggins boomed a punt over the head of Shabazz and the Eagles downed the ball on the SSC 38 yard line.

On first down, Cedric Smith found Garrett in the seam between three St. John defenders, and Garrett ran hard down to the Eagle 41 yard line.

The Rocks offensive line set up a beautiful wall for a quick screen to Ascani who drove down to the St. John 30 yard line, carrying two tacklers with him.

Smith dropped back to pass but was flushed out of the pocket and scampered for eight yards, running out of bounds to stop the clock. The Rocks had used all their time-outs, and with :42 seconds left SSC possibly had time for two more plays.

Coach Ken Lyons called on the Smith-Garrett combination once again, and both talented sophomores responded. Garrett made the reception at the 17 yard line, and battled to the 9 yard line with :08 left.

As the Rockachaw field goal team ran on the field, St. John wanted a time out to set their defense. The Eagles had blocked Vegas' first extra point try in the second quarter.

But the Rocks had played too hard and met too many challenges in this game to be denied. Center Steve Cuevas' snap was perfect, and Mike Vegas split the uprights for the 26 yard winning field goal.

Everyone on the Rockachaw sidelines and in the stands erupted with wild cheering that lasted several minutes. What impressed spectators was the high level of intensity both the SSC offensive and defensive squads sustained throughout the entire contest.

The Eagles had come into the game heavily favored and ranked seventh in the state in their division. Coach Mike Gavin's seasoned squad, with fifteen seniors, had previously defeated Pass High 58-6 and appeared invincible.

St. John quarterback Norris Hopkins directed the Eagle attack, and was responsible for many key first downs in the first quarter.

Bruising 225-lb fullback Jimmy Van Alstyne made himself known to the interior of the Rockachaw defense.

It was the Rockachaw offense, however, who controlled the ball throughout the first half.

Hard running by Shabazz, Ascani, and fullback Jorge Ponjuan moved the ball deep into St. John territory after Jimmy Reisch's excellent punt-return midway in the first quarter.

The Rocks got to the two yard line, but could not punch it in as the first quarter ended.

SSC's defense, led in the first half by Paul Montjoy and John Leyser, kept St. John backed up in their own territory. Craig Sweeney's penetration into the Eagle backfield forced a bad pitch from QB Hopkins, and the Eagle offense was never able to control the line of scrimmage.

It was the cool and experienced leadership of QB Yasin Shabazz which kept the Rocks moving. Shabazz found split end Freddie Wirstrom over the middle for a 47 yard scoring strike midway through the second quarter. Wirstrom, at times, found himself in triple coverage by the St. John secondary.

With the Rocks leading 6-0 and three minutes left in the first half, St. John's Jay Oberlies took the ensuing kickoff and broke several tackles before being stopped at the Rock 48 yard line.

Hopkins completed his next pass to tight end Charlie Harkins for a big first down at the SSC 35 yard line. Two plays later the Rocks were called for pass interference and St. John had a first and ten from the 13 yard line with :25 seconds left in the first half.

Hopkins kept the ball himself around right end for the touchdown, and Wiggins successful extra point put St. John ahead 7-6 at the end of the half.

The Eagles managed to block Hank Winters punt early in the third quarter, and St. John capitalized on the turnover six plays later as Van Alstyne bulled over from the two yard line. The Eagles now led 13-6, and were threatening to break the contest wide open.

The Rockachaw offense could not move the ball on its next possession and had to punt to the Eagles.

St. John planned to put the game out of reach as the Eagles went to the air, but an errant Hopkins aerial was intercepted by cornerback Jerry Fackrell who broke four tackles en route to the endzone. The two point conversion failed, and the Rocks trailed 13-12.

St. John exercised ball control, keeping it on the ground, and capped a 14-play drive with Van Alstyne driving off right guard for the score. Steve Palazzo's two point run was good, and St. John began to widen the gap to 21-12 with a little over nine minutes to go in the game.

It was at this point that the Rocks dug as deep as they could to find the confidence necessary to take charge of this ball game. The result was one of the most memorable displays of determination to win that's ever been witnessed in Rockachaw stadium.

Head Coach Ken Lyons exhorted his squad after the game "not to let your season end here."

"Once you learn to play with poise and confidence, great things will happen," Coach Lyons said.

"It's such a great feeling," Coach Lyons continued. "And maybe this week my wife will speak to me."

FORCING A FUMBLE—SSC's Shannon Garrett (16) executes perfect tackling form as he plows into St. John's Jay Oberlies forcing a fumble in one of the key plays of the fourth quarter. Coming in to assist is Dean Kelly (72). (SSC Photo)

SIX POINTS—Rockachaw split end Freddie Wirstrom makes sure of his catch as he beats St. John safety Craig Dedaux over the middle. Wirstrom broke two tackles on his way to the endzone on a 47-yd touchdown play. (SSC Photo)

Laneaux leads the way for Tiger defeat of Pass Christian

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Scoring five touchdowns Senior Running Back Brian Laneaux led the Bay Senior High Tigers to a 56-0 win Friday over the Pass Christian High School Pirates.

Laneaux led the Tigers in rushing, carrying the ball 15 times for 162 yards of the 284 offensive total.

Bay Coach Cleveland Williams said this was a big change for the Tigers over last week when total offense was only 34 yards.

"I'm glad to see the win for the team especially for young Quarterback Chad LaFontaine," Williams said.

"Chad did a real good job and led the team all the way through the game," he added.

Williams said LaFontaine had taken a lot of heat over the shutout defeat against Stone County in the season opener and this win should really be a boost to LaFontaine's confidence.

Assistant Bay Coach Gayle McRaney believes the biggest factor in the Tiger's win is changes made last week in both offensive and defensive positions.

"We made several changes to keep team members from having to play both ways and players are getting some relief so they don't get worn out," McRaney said.

Williams said the shifts in players' positions had worked "pretty good." He listed Lance Belle, Monty Strong and Ed Elliot as players in new positions giving particularly good performances.

Pass Pirate Coach Alton Wright said "it is the same old story, we can't stop Laneaux."

A Pirate fumble scooped up by Laneaux set the scene for the Tigers' first touchdown.

With first down and six yards to score, Laneaux ran five yards and then on second down went through the middle the final yard to begin the scoring.

Joel Duncan, Tiger kicker, came on the field next and scored the first of his six extra points for the game.

The two teams went back and forth down the field for the rest of the first quarter and the first few minutes of the second quarter.

Beginning on the Pirate 47, the Bay team launched a drive which included a 18-yard gain by Laneaux and a 15-yard pass reception to Darin Washington.

Next Laneaux bulldozed his way through six Pass defenders to score from the 10-yard line. Duncan's extra point was good.

The Tiger's next score came on the heels of another Pass fumble recovered by Bay player Amadee Collins.

LaFontaine began the scoring drive with a seven yard gain on a keeper play and Aaron Whavers added five yards for the first down.

The Tigers were unable to advance any closer to the goal line so they brought out Duncan who kicked a field goal to bring the score to 17-0 with four and a half minutes left in the first half.

Scoring began again just a couple minutes into the third quarter. Laneaux returned the kickoff 23 yards to give the Tigers a first and 10 on the Pirate 43-yard line.

Whavers added two and Laneaux had a big gain of 25 yards. Whavers did the honors scoring with 10:36 left in the third quarter. Duncan made the extra point.

Laneaux scored next in less than two minutes as the Pirates fumbled the ball and Andrew Collins recovered from the Tigers. Duncan's extra point brought the score to 31-0.

Another Pirate fumble paved the way for the second Tiger field goal kicked by Duncan.

We would like for all citizens of Hancock County on Sept. 17 join with Bells Across America at 5 p.m. CST with bells, chimes, horns, sirens, etc. to join in a tribute to the constitution for 200 seconds to be followed by 200 seconds of silence.

If in a car, honk your horn. All citizens should try to wear red, white and blue clothing. When displaying the American Flag, attach a red, white streamer in memory of the MIA and POWs.

Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1407, Ferndale, Mich. sent to an army unit on the West German border a POW/MIA flag to fly.

As we celebrate this country's 200th birthday, let us keep this issue still alive until all our men are home again from all battlefronts so that there can be strength in unity for freedom for all the people.

Lucille Boudreaux, Auxiliary President

Jackson Junior League

The Junior League of Jackson has begun a public campaign to raise funds to build a Children's Cancer Clinic at the University of Mississippi Medical Center.

League president Pat Grenfell said at a press conference on Thursday at the Medical Center that the proposed $2 million structure will adjoin the UMC Children's Hospital. She said the league became aware of the critical need for the clinic through the organization's volunteer work with the UMC Children's Cancer Program.

"A professional feasibility study the league commissioned in 1986 found that a fundraising campaign was practical and that a $2 million goal was both reasonable and attainable," she said. "We began calling on prospective major donors throughout the state last fall and already have $1.2 million committed to the project in cash and pledges." The goal of the public campaign is $800,000.

"A separate clinic for the Children's Cancer Program is one of our most pressing needs," said Dr. Norman C. Nelson, vice chancellor for health affairs, "and we are deeply grateful that the league has chosen to raise the funds for this structure. With their dedication and leadership, I feel very confident that it will become a reality."

The Medical Center offers the only comprehensive treatment center for children with cancer in the state. The UMC program is a part of a national network of 40 pediatric cancer centers which participate in clinical and laboratory research in pediatric cancer under the auspices of the National Cancer Institute.

The UMC program uses a multispecialty physician team and supporting nursing, laboratory and social work personnel to provide all the components of contemporary therapy and supportive care for children with cancer. At present, the young cancer patients have to share clinic space with other sick children, and youngsters on chemotherapy are very susceptible to other illnesses. Even exposure to a common childhood disease like chicken pox can be life-threatening to children with the tragic disease.

Grenfell said the proposed clinic would also consolidate various patient support resources which are now scattered throughout the Medical Center complex.

"This campaign is an historic event for Junior Leagues across the United States," said Nancy Studdard of Jackson, chairman of the league's fundraising committee. "Traditionally, we raise money through projects like Mistletoe Marketplace and Southern Sideboards—and then allocate the money raised to our various community projects, but we wanted to do more for the Children's Cancer Program. We wanted to find the funding for a new clinic."

POPE PORTRAYAL

Charles Durning portrays Pope John XXIII in a one-man show, "I Would Be Called John," at 8 p.m., Wednesday, Sept. 16, on Mississippi ETV.

In his brief reign as pontiff, from 1958 to 1963, Pope John XXIII became a beloved figure throughout the world among Catholics and non-Catholics alike. Yet there was more to this son of a peasant farmer than his gregarious warmth.

Elected pope at age 77, Angelo Roncalli was determined to throw open the doors of the Catholic church to both people and ideas.

After he was elected, he had to adjust to Vatican bureaucracy, but the pope was not about to allow himself to become a "prisoner of the Vatican."

Much to his assistant's dismay, he walked around the city, greeting tourists, visitors, meeting with old friends and becoming the first pope in nearly 200 years to attend a play: T.S. Eliot's "Murder in the Cathedral."

"I think I should support culture," he said. "Besides, I expect to have a good time."

"I back the family insurance I sell with good neighbor service."

Consumer Update

Investing can be extremely confusing. In an effort to sort through the maze of choices, many have sought the advice and assistance of a financial planner.

A financial planner should go over your budget, income, and assets and develop a plan based on needs and goals for the individual or family. The planner should encourage goal setting, suggest strategies for achieving goals and offer help for implementing those strategies.

Should you use the planner to purchase securities for you? Many planners can buy and sell securities, but be cautious if investment services are paid for by a commission.

Also, remember that not everyone needs a planner. Those with a yearly income of $50,000 or more and 50 percent of that amount in assets currently should definitely consider a planner. If less than this income, you should check with an accountant, lawyer or banker. Many persons prefer, with time and knowledge, to design and manage their own financial portfolio with assistance from a banker and life insurance representative.

Qualifications of a financial planner are hard to pinpoint due to a lack of regulation presently within the field. References are helpful but designations such as Certified Financial Planner or Chartered Financial Consultant indicate the planner has studied and met standards presently set by the College of Financial Planning in Denver or the American College in Pennsylvania.

There are other schools and agencies offering special degrees as well as affiliations such as the International Association of Financial Planners and the Registered Investment Advisors.

For a free copy of the publication, "Selecting a Financial Planner", call the Consumer Money Management Center at 388-4710.
